

- of life-giving plants, 186 ; souls of dead kings incarnate in, ii. 163, 173
- Servius, on the death of Attis, i. 264 *n.*⁴ ; on the marriage of Orcus, ii. 231 ; on Salacia as the wife of Neptune, 233
- Tullius, begotten by the fire-god, ii-235
- Sesostris, so-called monument of, i. 185
- Set, or Typhon, brother of Osiris, ii. 6 ; murders Osiris, 7 stj. ; accuses Osiris before the gods, 17 ; brings a suit of bastardy against Horus, 17 ; his combat with Horus, 17 ; reigns over Upper Egypt, 17 ; torn in pieces, 98. See also Typhon
- Sety I., King of Egypt, ii. 108
- Shamash, Babylonian sun-god, his human wives, i. 71
- Semitic god, i. 16 *n.*¹
- Shamashshumuk in, King of Babylon, burns himself, i. 173. ^., 176
- Shammuramat, Assyrian queen, i. 177 *w.*¹
- Shans of Burma, their theory of earthquakes, i. 198 ; cut bamboos for building in the wane of the moon, ii. 136
- Shark-shaped hero, i. 139 *w.*¹
- Sheaf, the first cut, ii. 239
- Sheep to be shorn when the moon is waxing, ii. 134 ; to be shorn in the waning of the moon, 134 n.^{113*}
- Sheitan dere, the Devil's Glen, in Cilicia, i. 150
- Shenty, Egyptian cow-goddess, ii. 88
- Shifting dates of Egyptian festivals, ii. 24 sq.
- Shilluk kings put to death before their strength fails, ii. 163
- Shilluks, their worship of dead kings, ii. 161 sq. ; their worship of Nyakang, the first of the Shilluk kings, 162 sqq.
- Shoulders of medicine-men especially sensitive, i. 74 #. ⁴
- Shouting as a means of stopping earthquakes, i. 197 sqq.
- Shropshire, feast of All Souls in, ii. 78
- Shu, Egyptian god of light, i. 283 n.^{*}
- Shuswap Indians of British Columbia eat nutlets of pines, i. 278 #. ~
- Biam, catafalque burnt at funeral of king of, i. 179 ; annual festival of the dead in, ii. 65
- Siao, children sacrificed to volcano in, i. 219
- Sibitti-baal, king of Byblus, i. 14
- Sibyl, the Grotto of the, at Marsala, i. 247
- Sibylline Books, i. 265
- Sicily, Syrian prophet in, i. 74 ; fossil bones in, 157 ; hot springs in, 213 ; gardens of Adonis in, 245, 253 sq. ; divination at Midsummer in, 254 ; Good Friday ceremonies in, 255 sq.

Sick people resort to cave of Pluto, i. 205 sq.
 Sicyon, shrine of Aesculapius at, i. 81
 Sidon, kings of, as priests of Astarte, i. 26
Siem, king, among the Khasis of Assam, ii. 210 *n.*¹
 Sigai, hero in form of shark, i. 139 *n.*¹
 Sihanaka, the, of Madagascar, funeral custom of the, ii. 246
 Sinai, "Mistress of Turquoise" at, i. 35
 Sinews of sacrificial ox cut, ii. 252
 Sins, the remission of, through the shedding of blood, i. 299
 Sinsharishkun, last king of Assyria, i. 174
 Sipylus, Mother Plastene on Mount, i. 185
 Sirlac or Sothic period, ii. 36
 Sirius (the Dog-star), observed by Egyptian astronomers, ii. 27 ; called Sothis by the Egyptians, 34 ; date of its rising in ancient Egypt, 34 ; heliacal rising of, on July 20th, 34 ? *z.*¹ 93 ; its rising marked the beginning of the sacred Egyptian year, 35 ; its rising observed in Ceos, 35 *n.*¹ ; sacrifices offered at its rising on the top of Mount Pelion, 36 n.
 the star of Isis, ii. 34, 119 ; in connexion with the Sed festival, 152 sq.
 Sis in Cilicia, i. 144
 Sister of a god, i. 51
 Sisters, kings marry their, i. 316
 Sizu in Cilicia, i. 144
 Skin, bathing in dew at Midsummer as remedy for diseases of the, i. 247, 248 ; of ox stuffed and set up, 296 sq. ; body of Egyptian dead placed in a bull's, ii. 15 n.^{*} ; of sacrificial victim used in the rite of the new birth, 155 sq.
 Skinner, Principal J., on the burnt sacrifice of children, ii. 219
 Skins of human victims, uses made of, i. 293 ; of horses stuffed and set up at graves, 293, 294
 Skull, drinking out of a king's, in order to be inspired by his spirit, ii. 171
 Sky conceived by the Egyptians as a cow, i. 283 n.[»]
 --- and earth, myth of their violent separation, i. 283
 --- -god, Attis as a, i. 282 sqq. | married to Earth-goddess, 282, with *z.*² ; mutilation of the, 283
 Slaughter of prisoners often a sacrifice to the gods, i. 290 n.[~]
 Slave Coast of West Africa, sacred men and women on the, i. 65, 68 ; Ewe-speaking peoples of the, 83 *z.*¹
 Slaves, sacred, in Western Asia, i. 39 ; *z.*¹